

Chilton Hit By Tornado

Extensive Damage Caused by Twister; One Youngster Hurt

BY DON KAMPFER
Post-Crescent Staff Writer

CHILTON — Two buildings were flattened and dozens of others damaged by a tornado which touched down here about 1:45 a.m. today.

The storm — identified as a "twister" by authorities — cut a narrow swath of damage — no more than a quarter mile wide — west to east through the center of the city.

Destroyed were the J. A. Stadtmueller and Sons Co. farm implement building, 150 E. Main St., and the home owned by Jerome Daun, 363 N. State St.

The implement company building was flattened and its stone front was strewn across Main Street, with some huge slabs landing on a lawn across the street. The Stadtmuellers have living quarters in the rear of the 150 by 40 foot building and were sleeping when the storm struck. They were not injured.

Rips Off Roof

At the Daun home, the couple and the four Daun children huddled in the northwest corner of the year-old home when the wind lifted off the dwelling's roof and ripped away its south side. All escaped uninjured.

The heaviest pocket of damage was in the vicinity of the Stadtmueller building. Dozens of trees were either stripped of their limbs or uprooted, blocking E. Main, one of six streets obstructed by fallen debris.

Others were N. Madison (State 57), Adams, Spring, Reed and N. State. About 100 trees throughout the city were shredded by the storm. Police Chief Dan Albedyll and Calumet County Sheriff Ivan Vice estimated.

The roof of the Royal Farm Museum, 216 Reed St., was plucked off and deposited in an adjacent vacant lot. The building, operated by the Calumet County Historical Society, contained a valuable collection of antiques recording the county's agricultural heritage. No damage estimate has been made.

Show windows and the front of the Wisconsin Public Service Corp. warehouse building immediately north of Stadtmueller's, also were smashed.

Others Damaged

Also damaged extensively were The Donald Schaefer home, 348 N. State St., the home of Mrs. Carl Holmester, 115 Spring St., breezeway smashed and roof damaged; the Arthur Pohland home, 222 Reed St., picture window blown out and car parked in drive damaged by falling tree, and the William Schneider home, 153 E. Main St., porch and roof crushed.

Many other homes sustained lesser damage.

A barn on the Carl Goesser farm about seven miles west of Chilton was blown down during

Dairy Import Quotas Cut By President

WASHINGTON (AP) — American imports of dairy products will be reduced to about one-fourth of the present volume beginning today under tightened quotas proclaimed by President Johnson Friday to give price relief to domestic milk producers.

The cutback in foreign supplies will be confined largely to a new colby type cheese, not heretofore controlled by quotas, and to a butterfat-sugar mixture, also not heretofore controlled, used in making ice cream.

Johnson took this action at the behest of dairy producer groups, many members of Congress and Secretary of Agriculture Orville L. Freeman. They said a sharp increase in dairy imports last year had adversely affected prices and income of American dairymen and had helped create a new surplus of dairy products.

State Legislature Split Over Road Safety Bill

State Government Collapses

Legislators Wonder What Happened

MADISON (AP) — Legislative government collapsed Friday.

With the Wisconsin Assembly recessed for 11 days and the Senate gone home without deciding when to return, several legislators lingering in the corridors wondered what had happened.

Party labels were blurred, meaningless.

The Senate was against the Assembly.

Why?

Gov. Warren P. Knowles' highway safety package, its prime provisions amputated by the Assembly after earlier endorsement by the Senate lay at the center of the storm.

Jockeying by both houses to gain a good bargaining position when the proposal goes to a compromise committee contributed to the impasse.

Personality clashes among leaders didn't help.

Simple end-of-the-session fatigue and a yearning to get home for the Fourth of July holiday and for the summer added to the resistance as Friday creaked on.

"It's time we drew the line," Senate majority leader Jerris Leonard of Bayside told his Republican colleagues in a closed door caucus.

"Bipartisan idiocy," responded both Assembly majority leader Curtis McKay, R-Cedarburg, and Democratic floor leader Robert Huber of West Allis.

What to do to resolve the unbridged gulf between the Senate and the Assembly on the highway safety bill—and when to do it—were the issues that never quite struggled to the forefront of the feud.

The Assembly had stripped the governor's bill of practically every substantive proposal which he had made and the Senate had endorsed.

The senators said the Assembly version left so little that additional work to find a common middle ground was useless.

They wanted to go home until Oct. 3. They named their compromise committee members and voted to leave.

The Assembly balked, urging that compromise efforts begin immediately and the Legislature come back no later than two weeks. The bill was alive, the assemblymen argued, and so was hope for a solution.

But the two houses of the Wisconsin Legislature parted and went their separate ways.

No one prevailed.

No one knows for certain when the two houses will meet again at the same time.

Everyone lost.

Assembly To Return On July 11

MADISON (AP) — A bitter deadlock over Gov. Warren P. Knowles' crippled highway safety bill has brought an abrupt breakdown of the Wisconsin Legislature and forced the initial 1967 session into an extra month.

The Senate spurned the Assembly's plan to return July 11 and went home indefinitely Friday night to wait while a compromise committee tries to rebuild the battered bill.

The six-man group will meet next Friday to start its search for agreement on the safety measure, mangled and dismembered by two weeks under Assembly assault.

The Senate said it would stay home until the start of the regular fall session Oct. 3 unless a settlement could be reached. The Assembly, ignoring the Senate, decided to come back a week from Tuesday.

"They are a long way apart," said Knowles, but he held out hope the pause in the Legislature might salvage the bill.

"The public is aroused and I think a lot of these people are going to have to do a lot of explaining when they get home," Knowles said.

The Assembly had ripped out each of Knowles' key sections for automobile inspections, driver retesting, mandatory driver's education for teen-agers, a statewide minimum drinking age, and intoxication tests for tipsy drivers.

Two Minutes

The Senate took only two minutes to turn down the Assembly remnants Friday morning. The lower house renewed its stand.

A Picture Taken Minutes after this morning's tornado at Chilton shows heavy stone blocks strewn across the city's E. Main Street. The blocks, each weighing at least 50 pounds, were from the front of the J. A. Stadtmueller and Sons Implement Co. building which was flattened by the storm. Slabs of stone were found on a lawn across the street. The building was one of two demolished by the wind while dozens more were damaged. (Post-Crescent Photo by Don Kampfer)

Bombing Incident May Cause Damage

U. S. Wary of Harm in Soviet Relations

WASHINGTON (AP) — Officials are disturbed over the possibility of damage to U.S.-Soviet relations at the town of Cam Pha in the harbor when attacks are made on selected military targets in the harbor area. This is a point which the United States has emphasized to the Soviet government in the past.

It is assumed here that the Soviets are fully aware of the dangers of accidental damage to their vessels putting into Haiphong or smaller ports such as Cam Pha, 50 miles north of the port of Haiphong.

U.S. officials say it is impossible to eliminate all risk of damage to shipping in Haiphong harbor when attacks are made on selected military targets in the harbor area. This is a point which the United States has emphasized to the Soviet government in the past.

Two U. S. Planes Lost

Navy Pilots Undaunted by Incident, Attack Fuel Depots Near Haiphong

SAIGON (AP) — Carrier-based U.S. Navy bombers left two fuel oil dumps in flames just west of Haiphong on the heels of Washington's concession that U.S. planes may have hit a Soviet ship in raids near the North Vietnamese port Thursday.

Intense antiaircraft fire in North Vietnam brought down two Navy Skyhawk jets, making 592 U.S. planes lost over North Vietnam. Both pilots were missing.

The raids west of Haiphong Friday were in the same general area where, the Soviet Union charged, American fire again hit a Soviet merchant ship.

A U.S. spokesman said Friday's followup strikes were at fuel dumps some distance inland, however. The closest to Haiphong was a strike on the Loi Dong storage area five miles to the northwest. Another fuel dump seven miles southwest of the port city was also attacked.

Returning pilots said 500-pound bombs sent ribbons of flame through the fuel dumps and the column of smoke from

Colored Oleo Finally Comes To Dairyland

MADISON (AP) — Colored oleo came to the capital of America's Dairyland today in a colorless ceremony.

Years of pettycoast bootlegging ended in a Madison supermarket at midnight as the butter substitute went on sale in Wisconsin, the last state in the nation to consider colored oleo an outlaw.

Assemblyman Daniel Hanna, D-Milwaukee, an ardent oleo devotee who promoted the quiet ceremony, bought five pounds of yellow oleo at the stroke of the 72-year-old ban's repeal.

The cashier, her shoulder pressing a telephone receiver to her ear, said "OK" when she confirmed it was midnight and then rang up Hanna's $2.01 total.

A daughter of a state senator's secretary had been quickly proclaimed "Miss Oleo" Friday afternoon and appeared at the store in yellow dress and yellow carnations. She smiled for the posed pictures as she bagged the butter substitute.

The oleo had been hastily stacked by the manager five minutes before midnight in a dairy cooler flanked by English muffins and the long-protected 70-cent spread.

The Wisconsin Legislature wiped out the nation's last ban on colored oleo by votes of 67-30 in the Assembly and 19-10 in the Senate this session after years of dispute.

The measure, signed into law by Gov. Warren P. Knowles a month ago, called for the sale to start today, July 1.

'Natural Progression'

Negro Astronaut Feels Fortunate

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The first Negro astronaut called his selection for the Manned Orbiting Laboratory — MOL — program "nothing dramatic."

Maj. Robert H. Lawrence Jr. told newsmen it was "just a natural progression" and that he was fortunate to be chosen for the "nonaggressive, military operation."

Lawrence was one of four more aerospace research pilots named Friday by the Air Force in the Department of Defense MOL program. They complete a list of 16 pilots, two of whom are scheduled to be aboard a Titan 3C booster sometime in 1970, headed for an orbiting laboratory.

The other three are Lt. Col. Robert T. Herres, 34, Denver, Colo.; Maj. Donald H. Peterson, 33, Winona, Miss.; and Maj. James A. Abrahamson, 34, Portland, Ore.

Lawrence, from Chicago, is the youngest of the four at 31 and is the only one with a Ph.D. — in physical chemistry from Ohio State University.

Lawrence, asked at a news conference whether he had met any opposition to his appointment because he is a Negro, said he wasn't aware of any.

When Peterson was asked whether he would have any feelings about going up in a two-laugh, "You proposed we would be the two who would go up together. Well, I'd be quite pleased with that."

Lawrence said the research pilot training was just as hard as chemistry school.

"The academic life of an aerospace research pilot is no soft touch," he added.

Plans for the MOL program call for two men in a Gemini B attached to a Titan 3C booster to lift off from Vandenberg Air Force Base, Calif., in 1970. They will make contact with the orbiting lab and enter through a hatch shielded for a 30-day stay, living in the satellite without the use of space suits.

FWD Corp. Wins $1.5 Million Pact From Government

Special to The Post-Crescent

WASHINGTON — A $1.5 million contract to build fire fighting trucks for the Air Force has been awarded to FWD Corp., Clintonville.

Sen. Gaylord Nelson, D-Wis., made the announcement late today. Johnson's summit talks with Soviet Premier Alexei N. Kosygin at Glassboro, N.J., were unavailable for comment.

FWD is the major industry in Clintonville. The manufacturer of four-wheel drive equipment produces specialized heavy duty vehicles. It employs about 1,600 workers.

The company previously has filled several major government contracts.

Amazing Cubs Post 7-5 Win Over Reds

Giants Roll Past Phillies On 19 Hits

By MIKE RECHT
Associated Press Sports Writer

The pitchers turned hitters and the hitters turned pitchers as the National League turned topsy turvy, and General Manager Joe Brown of Pittsburgh capped it all by giving his team a vote of confidence instead of his manager.

Chris Short, trying to show he can still win after missing 40 days with a torn knee ligament, started the shenanigans Friday night by proving he can hit, too. He backed his seven-hitter with a three-run double that completed Philadelphia's 10-3 victory over San Francisco in the first game of a doubleheader.

Juan Marichal carried on as usual in the nightcap, riding a 19-hit Giant attack that buried the Phillies 12-3. But Philadelphia still managed the unusual feat of having six pitchers turned out to be Cookie Rojas. Philadelphia's valuable jack of all trades who now has played every position in the major leagues.

Osteen Homers

Claude Osteen followed this happening by lining a lead off home run in the ninth inning that won his own game as Los Angeles beat Houston 5-4.

Then it was Steve Blass' turn for Pittsburgh, backing up Brown's pre-game vote of confidence. His two-run single in the eighth inning gave him a five-hit 3-1 triumph over Atlanta.

But don't forget the Chicago Cubs, who continued their amazing reversal with a 7-5 victory over Cincinnati, their 11th victory in 12 games.

The New York Mets did not surprise anyone, however, losing to league-leading St. Louis 4-1.

Short a 20-game winner last season, had an easy time despite one bad pitch that rookie Dick Dietz hit for a three-run homer in the third inning. Short retired the next 12 batters and 19 of the last 21 he faced.

Detroit Reduces White Sox Lead With 4-1 Victory

Brunet Hurls Angels to 6-2 Triumph Over Yanks; A's Cop

By HAL BOCK
Associated Press Sports Writer

The thing about George Brunet is that the New York Yankees and Bell, still baseball season started about two months too soon for each of them.

Both Brunet and Bell sadly waved goodbye to June with victories Friday night and proved that two months do not make a season make. Brunet, who had a nine-game losing streak until June busted out all over, pitched California to a 6-2 victory over the New York Yankees and Bell, still savoring his new surroundings, won his fifth game for Boston, beating Kansas City 5-3.

Elsewhere Friday night, Detroit dropped Chicago 4-1 and Cleveland nipped Baltimore 6-5 in the 14-inning first game of a scheduled two-night doubleheader. The second game was suspended after five innings with the Orioles leading 1-0. Tornado-like wind and rain wiped out Washington's game at Minnesota.

Nine Straight

Brunet beat Detroit with a three-hitter in the season's opener and didn't win another game until June. He dropped nine straight during the streak. But once he ended the string, he won three more games during June and enters July with a respectable 5-11 record. That's respectable for a guy who was 1-9.

Don Mincher drove in three runs for the Angels, who ran up an early 5-0 lead against loser Mel Stottlemyre. Minnie Rojas halted a Yankee threat in the eighth and worked the last two innings.

The East and West teams will Bell like Brunet, suffered go through their first workout through two tough months in Sunday after another session before the cameras. "This is an all-star game and everyone should have fun and the new uniform has worked season. had an easy time enjoy the week." East Coach Mel Stottlemyre for the veteran right-hander and he stands 6-6 today. However, I hope we'll never after winning his fifth game for the Red Sox.

Ortiz, Ramos To Do Battle In Rematch

SAN JUAN, P.R. (AP) — World lightweight champion Carlos Ortiz and challenger Sugar Ramos square off tonight in a rematch of their fight last Oct. 22 that ended in a near riot when Ortiz retained the title on a technical knockout.

The outdoor bout at Hiram Bithorn Stadium, scheduled for 10 p.m. EDT, is expected to attract a record 20,000 fans with a gate of more than $150,000. However, it has rained most of the week and promoter Bob Leith said a postponement would set the fight back to Monday.

Most island boxing experts look for Ortiz to win before the tenth round of the 15-round match, but agree that Ramos, who dropped Ortiz in the second round of their previous battle, could end it with one solid punch.

"You can be sure the fight is not going to last too long," the 30-year-old Puerto Rican-born runs. He posted an outstanding New York champion said Ortiz has a 47-5-1 record, including 17 knockouts. He has never been stopped. Ramos, who held the world featherweight title in 1963-64, is 49-3-3. He has been the Baltimore Orioles in 1965, stopped twice.

All-Star Tilt Tuesday

Mantle Heads List of Players Cited by Bauer

BOSTON (AP) — The American League All-Star team will look more familiar this year than last. The list of players named to the squad Friday to back up eight starters chosen in balloting by players, managers and coaches.

Join Mantle

Joining Mantle on the squad were first baseman Don Mincher and shortstop Jim Fregosi of the California Angels; second baseman Dick McAuliffe of the Detroit Tigers; third baseman Max Alvis of the Cleveland Indians; catchers Paul Casanova of the Washington Senators and Andy Etchebarren of the Baltimore Orioles, and outfielders Tommie Agee of the Chicago White Sox and Tony Conigliaro of the Boston Red Sox.

The additions, announced by league president Joe Cronin, were selected by Hank Bauer, manager of Baltimore's world champions who will direct the All-Star squad.

Roof Ripped Off In Stadium, Twins Postpone Contest

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — The game between Washington and Minnesota was postponed Friday night after a wind and rain storm apparently ripped off a small section of the roof at Metropolitan Stadium and sent fans into a near state of panic. Time was called as driving rain reduced visibility to 100 feet and sent the estimated 15,000 spectators racing for any cover available, fearing a tornado was about to strike the stadium. A few fans climbed into the press box.

No tornado funnel was spotted in the darkness as the stadium lights went out but the deafening roar of the wind led many to believe that a tornado had passed over the semi-open stadium.

Play was suspended in the last of the first inning.

May Hits Grand Slam; Foxes Hand Waterloo 9-5 Defeat

Loss First for Hawks in Second Round of Midwest League Action

WATERLOO, Ia. — An intense battle continued in the seventh as George Hunter back-fired as Carlos May rifled a grand slam home run over the left center field fence to give the Appleton Foxes a 9-5 triumph over Waterloo here Friday.

The loss was Waterloo's first of the second half and dropped the Hawks, Appleton and three other teams in a tie for first place in the Midwest League. Tonight the two teams will battle in the series finale before the Foxes return Sunday to begin a 7-day home stand.

A walk, an error, another walk, a balk by the Foxes' Ken Frailing and a hit got Waterloo off to 2-0 lead in the third inning.

Double Play

The Foxes knotted the count at 2-2 in the fifth on successive singles by Joe Monty, Frailing and Jose Ortiz and an error Appleton had the bases loaded when Art Kusnyer hit into an inning ending double play, one of two Waterloo pulled off.

Appleton went ahead 3-2 as a run scored on an infield out in the sixth but the Hawks counted.

North Enters Final Round In Golf Test

LAFAYETTE, Ind. (AP) — Andy North of Monona Grove, Wis., meets Mike Gondart of Roswell, N.M. today for the championship of the Western Junior golf tournament.

North, two-time Wisconsin high school champion at 17, beat Bill Herbert of Roanoke, Va., 1 up in 18 holes Friday in the quarterfinals and then downed Bill Spannuth of Anderson, Ind., 3 and 1.

Goodart, 19, downed Eddie Cook of West Lafayette, Ind., 4 and 3 and then edged Jim McLean of Seattle, Wash., 2 and 1.

Aussies Capture Three Matches in Oklahoma Meet

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP) — Australian players won three of the five first-round matches in Oklahoma City's world professional tennis tournament Friday.

Top-seeded Ken Rosewall defeated fellow Aussie Mal Anderson 6-4, 6-4. Fred Stolle of Australia beat Mike Davies of Wales 6-3, 6-3; and the Australian team of Stolle and Rod Laver won the only doubles contest, beating Alex Olmedo of Peru and Pancho Segura of Ecuador 6-4, 6-2.

In the other two singles matches Friday, fourth-seeded Dennis Ralston of Bakersfield, Calif., beat Butch Buchholz of St. Louis 6-3, 6-4; and Alex Olmedo of Peru eliminated Pierre Barthes of France 6-4, 6-2.

Graebner Loses in Wimbledon Meet

By GEOFFREY MILLER, Associated Press Sports Writer
WIMBLEDON, England (AP) — They'll talk about the 1967 Wimbledon tennis tournament for years—as the year when the serve-and-volley duels went on and on and on.

Some of the score sheets read more like basketball than tennis. Veteran fans can't remember a Wimbledon like it.

Detroit Cuts Chisox Lead To 4½ Games

eighteenth inning but John Wyatt saved the victory.

Johnny Podres, making only his third start of the year, stymied Chicago for seven innings and Mike Marshall finished the league leaders off as Detroit defeated the White Sox.

Podres, 2-0, put the leadoff man on base three times in the first six innings without allowing a run. Then Marshall rescued him when Don Buford and Dick Kenworthy stroked one-out singles in the eighth.

Cash Doubles

Norm Cash doubled home two runs as Detroit hopped on Tommy John for three runs in the first inning.

Vic Davallio singled home Cleveland's winning run in the 14th inning of the four hour, 53 minute first game against Baltimore. The Orioles led the nightcap 1-0 on Boog Powell's homer when a Baltimore curfew forced suspension of the game after five innings.

The second game will be completed before today's regularly scheduled game.

The Indians tied the opener in the ninth inning when reliever Eddie Watt walked Don Demetris with the bases loaded. Mayer's third single of the game started the winning rally in the 11th. After Chuck Hinton walked, Davallio delivered.

Johnson, Graff Pace Appleton To 10-1 Win

The Appleton American Legion team climbed into a tie for first place in the Central Division of the Valley League Thursday by pasting Weyauwega-Fremont 10-1, as Tim Johnson hurled a 2-hitter.

Johnson didn't walk a man and struck out seven while handcuffing W-F. The losers managed just two singles by Montgomery in the second and Rastler in the sixth.

Bubbsie Graff and the 8-hit Appleton attack with three singles in four at bats and Greg Steinhorst continued two more.

The game was scoreless through the first three innings. Appleton finally got to W-F starter Tom Rohde for two hits and three runs in the fourth, added four more markers in the fifth and wrapped it up with a 3-run sixth. W-F tallied its only run in the fifth on an error.

Appleton now stands 5-1 in loop play and is tied with Marion for the lead. W-F is now 1-5.

Wiggin Replaces Fiss As Browns' Captain For 1967 Season

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — Defensive end Paul Wiggin, playing his 11th season with the Cleveland Browns of the National Football League, has been appointed squad captain, points Elmer Vandenberg and Coach Blanton Collier said to Norm Joecks topped the First day.

They'll Do It Every Time

Cubs Runner Al Spangler slides wide trying to get past Cincinnati Reds catcher Don Pavletich in the second inning during Friday's game in Chicago. Spangler didn't score because the ball reached Pavletich just in time for the tag. The play started with Pavletich throwing to second to prevent an attempted steal while Spangler was on third. The throw was cut off and returned to Pavletich in time to tag Spangler, who had broken for home. The Cubs won, 7-5.

No Ovations for Williams

BY JOE MOOSHIL, Associated Press Sports Writer
CHICAGO (AP) — He gets 1961 He has hit 34 homers in no standing ovations, he has no more fan clubs and never is a sign hoisted heralding his name.

Fate has relegated Billy Williams of the Chicago Cubs to a secondary role, one which he accepts with quiet understanding.

Sweet Swinging Billy, who has a string of 565 consecutive games going, has had big years and at the age of 29 is looking for a lot more.

Williams, who slugged his 14th homer in Friday's 7-5 victory over Cincinnati to give Chicago four straight and 11 triumphs in the last 12 games, did catch the headlines once.

Batted Over .400

That was in 1964 when Williams got hot and batted over .400 until late June. Then he hit a slump and soon the possibility of his becoming the first man in the majors to bat .400 in a quarter of a century vanished.

"It was fun while it lasted," smiled Williams "and I'm only human. Sure I liked the attention. But I'm just as satisfied to remain in the background."

"Look, being second or third to this guy isn't too bad," said Williams as he pointed to Banks, "after all, he's Mr. Cub."

"I know some players resent not getting the publicity," he continued, "but it doesn't bother me. All I can do is play as well as I can and get the job done."

"People have told me that the fans take me for granted," said Williams. "Well, sometimes that's the way it has to be. But I get my say at contract time—that's when it counts."

Came in Fifth

Williams' homer came in the fifth inning to put him one behind Banks for the club lead and one ahead of Santo and Phillips. So what happened. Santo hit his 14th in the seventh inning.

Oddly enough, they both homered last Monday against Philadelphia.

"Let him keep up with me," said Williams, "as long as we can win the pennant."

"I told him not to stop," said Santo. "I'm afraid of what might happen to me."

And in the office in front of the clubhouse, Manager Leo Skidmore in the bottom of the Durocher roared "We're not eighth cracked a 1-1 tie and running any home run derby on this club. But I'm not going to complain as long as they keep hitting 'em."

The Cubs will try to stretch their latest streak to five victories today when they send Rich Nye (6-3) against the Reds and Mel Queen (8-3).

Bob and Mary's Wins Sundell Hurls 1-Hitter In Kaukauna Tourney

KAUKAUNA — Shutouts were the order of the day in the Kaukauna Athletic Club softball tournament here Friday.

Bill Sundell fired a 1-hitter to lead Club 616 of Green Bay to an 11-0 win over Schouten Oilers of Kaukauna. Sundell struck out 12 and walked only two. The winners collected just seven hits to tally their 11 runs. Dick Jonas had two of them.

Mike Miller scattered three hits as Park Avenue Bar of Oshkosh downed Oscar's of Fond du Lac 3-0. Miller fanned nine and walked just one. Dick Boese had three hits and Dave Kiesew had two including a double for the Oshkosh squad.

Jack Coenen yielded three hits as Bob and Mary's of Kaukauna topped Bleuer's Bar of Appleton 4-0. Coenen struck out seven and issued four walks. Hank Peerenboom tripled and singled to drive in a pair of runs for Bob and Mary's.

Four games are on tap for today. Van-L Limited of Green Bay meets Nelson Esquire of

Conway Reaches Semis Whitlinger Takes Title In Wisconsin Open Test

OSHKOSH (AP) — Ken Bartz of Rhinelander defeated Jim Stocker of Hinsdale, Ill., Friday 6-0, 6-2 and won the boys 16 and under title of the Wisconsin Open tennis tournament.

In the semifinals Stocker upset Scott Perlstein of Milwaukee, the state prep champion and No. 1 seed, 6-4, 2-6, 6-4 while Bartz eliminated Kevin Conway of Menasha 6-3, 7-5.

Tim Gullickson of Onalaska downed Mike Cahill of Waukesha 6-4, 6-1 for the boys 16 and under crown.

John Whitlinger of Neenah trimmed Joe Kendall of Glendale 6-1, 6-3 for the championship for boys 14, while Denis Cahill of Waukesha won the boys 12 title by defeating Dan Allen of Milwaukee 6-0, 6-3.

Veto Power Is Questioned Players Put Another Deadline And Ultimatum to PGA Officials

By BOB GREEN, Associated Press Sports Writer
MONTREAL (AP) — The explosive PGA-player controversy was at the tinderbox stage today, the players threatening to pull out and form their own organization and the PGA standing firm.

The crux of the matter is a veto power held by the PGA executive committee on matters pertaining to the pro tour. The players want that veto power negated. The PGA says no.

"If we give up the veto power over the tournament sections (of the PGA constitution), we have to give it up for all the other sections," PGA president Max Elbin said in Bethesda, Md.

"Then we wouldn't have any organization. We've gone as far as we could."

The players, in Montreal for the Canadian Open, said in a prepared statement that if the PGA doesn't meet their demands for more control of the $4.5 million tour "they would regrettably refrain from playing in the PGA championship and would be forced to charter a new organization to perform business in 1968."

The PGA represents both the touring pros and club pros.

"Unanimous in Stand"

"We are unanimous in our stand," said Doug Ford, a member of the players' tournament committee. "We don't really want to pull out of the PGA, but we'll do it if we have to."

The players have put a deadline of July 5, next Wednesday, on their demands, which center around the PGA's veto power. If those demands are not met, they said, they would not play in the PGA national championship—one of the world's four major titles—in Denver beginning July 20.

No further meetings are scheduled between the two parties.

"It's squarely up to the PGA," Ford said. "If they want to have a tournament in Denver, they have to agree."

Amazing Cubs Defeat Reds; Giants Win

layoff and still pitch my game. I pitched a pretty good game and the knee didn't bother me one bit," Short said after his first start since May 21 and the injury May 23.

Phillie Manager Gene Mauch gave Rojas a chance after the Giants broke a 3-3 tie with three runs in the sixth inning and added four more in the seventh and two in the eighth as Jim Hart and Ollie Brown each drove in four runs. Rojas responded by pitching a scoreless inning.

Marichal, who has lost six games, breezed to his 11th victory, tying him with Osteen for the league lead.

Osteen almost didn't make it as the Astros clobbered him for four runs in the first three innings. But his sacrifice fly and Wee Parker's three-run inside-the-park homer in the second inning gave him his chance in the ninth.

Losing Sterak

Blass' hit broke a 1-1 deadlock and Pittsburgh's five-game losing streak in a game delayed twice by rain for a total of one hour and 43 minutes.

His complete game, only the ninth in 71 games for Pirate pitchers, moved disappointing Pittsburgh into a tie for fifth place. It followed Brown's talk to his players in the locker room after sending out manager Harry Walker and the coaches.

Brown refused to call his 15-minute session a vote of confidence for Walker or a tongue-lashing for the players, who were early season favorites to win the pennant.

It was a "vote of confidence to the players," he said, adding that he doesn't believe in votes of confidence for a manager.

But Brown told the players Walker would be their manager for a "long time."

"If this club doesn't win the National League pennant," Brown said, "it's not because they're mismanaged. It's because they didn't want to pay the price to win."

Meanwhile, the second-place Cubs, who haven't finished in the first division since 1946, stayed 1½ games behind St. Louis. They built a 6-0 lead on homers by Ron Santo and Lilly Williams and Bill Hands pitched hitless ball for 6 1-3 innings before fading and Cal Koonce and Chuck Hartenstein rescued him.

Julian Javier drove in three runs with a single and a sacrifice fly behind Larry Jaster as the Cardinals broke a three-game losing streak. Jerry Grote homered for the Mets.

DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE — Here's how to work it:

AXYDLBAAXR
LONGFELLOW

One letter simply stands for another. In this sample A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters represent the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

Lesson in English

BY W. L. GORDON

Words often misused. Do not say: He uses mighty good English. 'Mighty' when used as an adverb in the sense of 'very or exceedingly' is colloquial and should be avoided in formal usage.

Often mispronounced. Malpractice. Accent second syllable, not the first.

Often misspelled. Recreation (pleasurable activity). Re-creation (creation again).

Synonyms: Irregular, abnormal, crooked, devious, eccentric, erratic, fitful, mutable, uneven, unusual, variable, wandering, wild.

Word study: 'Use a word three times and it is yours. Let us increase our vocabulary by mastering one word each day. Today's word: Attenuate: to slenderize, reduce, weaken, dilute, rarefy. It was necessary to attenuate the original strand to obtain such a fine filament.'

Ballot Favors Completion of Fair Ice Rink

Reversal Possible For West Allis Park Project

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau

MADISON — The state Building Commission has voted 5-2, with one vote remaining to be received in a mail ballot, favorably on proposed completion project of the West Allis State Fair Park Olympic ice rink.

But the action, subject to confirmation at the next full meeting of the commission, is expected to undergo a thorough review and possible reversal as a staff report may be presented reviewing new developments since the approval was considered in the mail ballot.

Staff assistants assert the proposed $198,000 project could mushroom into a $645,000 proposal under unrevealed proposals associated with the development.

The full commission meeting is scheduled for July 10.

Included in the $198,000 project is the completion of the floor of the ice rink building, the installation of 2,500 bleacher seats in the structure and the addition of a judges and timers building.

The three additional phases reported to the state Bureau of Engineering for the project included the addition of a hockey rink, a toboggan slide, landscaping and assorted construction work.

Today in History

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Today is Saturday, July 1, the 182nd day of 1967—and, for the federal government, the first day of the fiscal year 1968. There are 183 days left in the calendar year.

Today's highlight in history: On this date in 1867 — 100 years ago — the Dominion of Canada was formed under the British North American Act.

On this date: In 1862, the U.S. Congress established the Bureau of Internal Revenue.

In 1863, the Civil War Battle of Gettysburg began.

In 1898 Theodore Roosevelt's Rough Riders won a victory in the Battle of San Juan Hill in Cuba in the Spanish-American War.

In 1931, Wiley Post and Harold Gatty completed a flight around the world in the monoplane Winnie Mae.

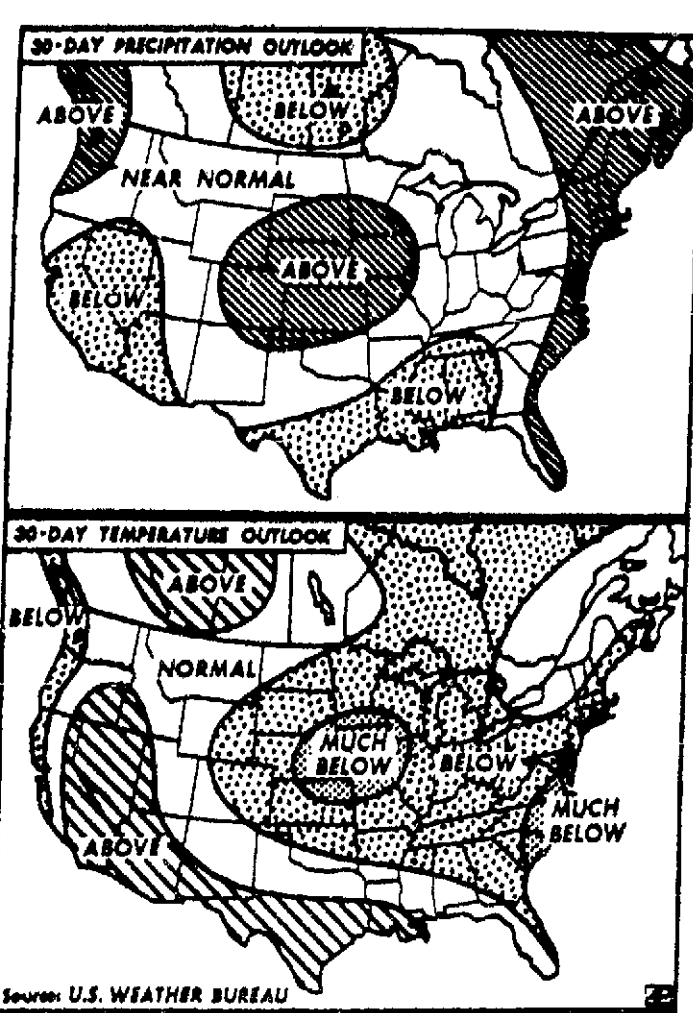

In 1932, New York's Gov. Franklin D. Roosevelt was nominated for president at a Democratic convention in Chicago.

In 1958, construction of the St. Lawrence Seaway was completed.

Ten years ago—Egypt's President Gamal Abdel Nasser said he would accept a world court ruling on free passage through the Suez Canal.

Five years ago -- President and Mrs. Kennedy returned home after a wildly enthusiastic reception in Mexico City.

One year ago -- The Federal medicare health program for the elderly went into effect.

State Regulations Cover All Public Swimming Facilities

BY E. H. JORRIS, M. D.
State Health Officer

Summertime is swimming time in Wisconsin and hot-weather holidays, such as the approaching Independence Day, often tax the capacity of pools and crowd the beaches.

Our state is endowed generously with lakes, ponds, rivers and streams that afford uncounted places where persons may swim. There is no tabulation of public swimming beaches but the total is estimated to be between 5,000 and 8,000.

There are approximately 700 public swimming pools registered with the State Board of Health. In addition to municipal pools, this includes pools serving and installed for motels, hotels, resorts, camps, clubs, associations, schools and similar accommodations. About 80 new public pools are registered each year.

Standards Adopted
Public bathing facilities first became a matter of regulatory action in 1931, when recommended standards were adopted. Revisions were made as needed, but by the late 1950's the number and variety of public pool installations indicated a need for a completely revised code. With the help of a 13-member advisory committee a code was drawn up and adopted in 1965. It is looked upon as one of the most comprehensive swimming pool construction codes. Owners of public pools are required to submit plans for approval by our Division of Public Swimming Facilities before construction may be started.

Operators of public swimming pools are required to make a number of daily checks of water quality and cleanliness and rehome after a wildly enthusiastic reception in Mexico City.

One year ago -- The Federal medicare health program for the elderly went into effect.

ing school that provides two full days of demonstrations, lectures and discussions of matters concerned with pool operation. There were 140 operators at the 1967 training school at Lake Delton early in June.

No State Regulations

Increased popularity of residential pools prompts people to ask what regulations govern the construction and use of such pools. There are no state regulations that apply to private swimming pools. Some municipalities in Wisconsin have local ordinances covering swimming pools. Others have none.

For most persons, particularly parents, a foremost concern is safety. The Conservation Department's annual report on drownings reveals that during 1966 there were seven drownings in swimming pools in Wisconsin. The U. S. Public Health Service made a study of 53 motel pool fatalities that took place in the nation in 1965 and the conclusions of that study constitute both guidelines for pool operators and criteria for parents to follow before permitting their children to use a pool. Main factors contributing to the drownings were found to be:

(1) Absence of adequate protective barriers around the pool; (2) absence of lifeguards or qualified adult supervision; (3) disregard for rules of good pool conduct; and (4) the failure to teach youngsters drowning-prevention knowledge and skills at early ages.

Appleton Girls Hurt In Little Chute Mishap

LITTLE CHUTE — Miss Leatha Lake, 16, 1520 E. Francis St., Appleton, and her sister, Clarissa, 8, suffered facial cuts and abrasions about 7:35 p.m. Thursday when a car driven by Leatha struck a utility pole.

According to police, Miss Lake was traveling west on W. Main Street when the car failed to negotiate a curve at Main and Adams streets. The girls were taken to St. Elizabeth Hospital in Larry's Ambulance.

Frank Longrie, 82, Dies; Headed Seymour Library

SEYMOUR — Frank J. Longrie, 82, 556 S. Main St., president of the Seymour Public Library board for many years, died Friday afternoon in a Green Bay hospital.

Longrie, a native of Sturgeon Bay, came here in 1917 and operated the Chevrolet agency until his retirement in 1947. He also was a charter member and long-time secretary of the Seymour Kiwanis Club.

He is survived by a brother, nieces and nephews. Funeral services will be at 9 a.m. Monday at St. John Catholic Church. Burial will be in Woodlawn Cemetery, Green Bay.

Friends may call at the Muehl Funeral Home after 8 p.m. Sunday.

Woman Hurt When Driver Hits Car Door

Mrs. Lawrence J. Thein, 1119 E. Jardin Court, suffered a knee injury about 7:25 p.m. Friday when a car driven by her husband struck the left front door of a car in the 200 block of E. Wisconsin Avenue.

Appleton police said William Hale, 41, 1701 S. Outagamie St., was parked at the curb, and opened his car door while the Thein car was passing.

Commission Chairman Blocks School Site Vote

presenting residents immediately next to Hoover Park, spoke on their behalf and also questioned the validity of the meeting. He urged the commission to defer any action so the council could reconsider its vote on the Mielke property purchase at its next meeting. He also questioned the legality of the mayor having a vote on the commission.

The 16 men and women from the Hoover Park area who were on hand to protest relocating the park to the nearby Roeland property found Jones in ardent agreement. The meeting, lacking decorum and with commission members questioning each other, lasted for more than an hour.

Hoover Area Protest

The Hoover Park residents said they had built homes there because it was a park and some claimed the area could use another park which could be put on the Roeland property.

Some said it would cost the city considerable money to develop another park, and others charged it would be "a waste of money" to abandon Hoover for a school.

Jones, who continuously argued with those on the commission who pressed for a vote on whether to make Hoover Park available, said there was $40,000 invested in the two baseball diamonds and shelter house there and that "this money will all go down the drain." He refuted claims of city engineers and planners that half could be recouped and the funds applied to a new park area.

Smith repeatedly said it was not the responsibility of the commission to dispose of parks, and said the commission had an obligation to take some action one way or another and brought the discussion to a point for a few brief minutes. He moved that the commission reconsider its previous action and favor Hoover Park for a school site while exchanging it for 22 acres of Roeland land with the stipulation that funds which would have to be paid for acquiring 12 acres of Mielke land, be earmarked in 1968 for the development of a larger southside park.

At one point, Ald. Al Stoegbauer (4th), commission member, said he could recall when Hoover Park area residents complained of baseball activity at the diamonds and strongly protested a park board plan to correct lights for one of the diamonds. As a result the lighted diamond project was dropped there.

Stoegbauer and Strutz, noting that Hoover Park was baseball diamonds and flat land, said the Roeland property, in their opinion, would make for an "excellent park and recreation area" and would be twice the size of Hoover and have about five acres of wooded area.

Asks Reconsideration

Strutz insisted the commission had an obligation to take some action one way or another and brought the discussion to a point for a few brief minutes. He moved that the commission reconsider its previous action and favor Hoover Park for a school site while exchanging it for 22 acres of Roeland land with the stipulation that funds which would have to be paid for acquiring 12 acres of Mielke land, be earmarked in 1968 for the development of a larger southside park.

Smith said he didn't think the motion was legal and started the first round of motions for adjournment that failed.

Later Strutz rephrased the motion to eliminate the word "reconsider" because the meeting had been called specifically to act on whether Hoover Park should be made available and was a special session.

Smith questioned whether the motion was in order and Jones ruled that it was not.

Move to Adjourn Loses

Then came another motion to adjourn, which lost.

Accusations were made back and forth with Myse, Smith, Heerman and Jones contending the city council was responsible for creating the school site problem because it had voted against purchase of the Mielke property. Jones also criticized the city attorney.

Their statements came after Strutz said he felt the group had an obligation to "at least make the site available for school board consideration."

The way the voting pattern went, Jones, Smith and Heerman were aligned against the Hoover Park motion.

Ald. Strutz, Stoegbauer, Eldred Mullen (16th) and Mayor Buckley favored it.

But when Jones ruled there was no business before the commission, there finally came motion to eliminate the word "reconsider" because the meet-

Let's EXPLORE YOUR MIND

By Sylvanus M. Duvall, Ph.D. and Evelyn M. Duvall, Ph.D.

ARE PEOPLE TODAY MORE KNOWLEDGEABLE ABOUT THE CAUSES OF INSANITY? YES ☐ NO ☐

Yes. The majority of Americans recognize emotional difficulties as the cause of insanity, started by diagnosing a family's The more education people problem, and then bringing to have, the more they tend to cite bear upon it all the resources emotional and physical sources available in behalf of the whole of mental disturbance. The less family. As he used to say of his education respondents have, the approach, "It is going to stop more they mention such things divorces that should not be as alcoholism, overeating, and granted and if, from a socio-overwork as the reasons for logical point of view, the demented imbalance. Public atti-orce must be granted, the tudes toward mental illness are court will act without the necessity of a public trial. We will not harass the parties by forcing them to accuse each other and consequently do damage to themselves and their children."

Bad treatment causes kids to join criminal gangs! True — False — Psychiatrist Richard Jenkins, who has studied this problem intensely, says no. Members of criminal gangs usually come from large families. Often they have fairly good relations with their parents, and far from being ill-treated, are often allowed to do much as they please without much adult interference. A failure to control and to instill moral standards in them while young causes much of their trouble.

Is there a humane way to get a divorce?

Ramp Opening Delayed Until Finish of Work

Insurance Carrier States Appleton's Legal Responsibility

Premature opening of the new Soldiers Square parking ramp has been ruled out on the basis it would make the City of Appleton legally vulnerable from a liability standpoint.

The informal verbal opinion was given today by City Atty. David Geenen after contacting the city's insurance carrier, Employers Mutuals of Wausau.

Need Railings

"Our insurance carrier advised in view of the fact that the state Industrial Commission has made a preliminary inspection and issued certain orders, including installation of railings, it would be unwise to open the ramp at this time," Geenen said.

Earlier in the week an Appleton Area Chamber of Commerce group, representing some of the downtown retailers, asked the 450-car ramp be opened partially before the project is completed.

"Should the city encourage any violations of the Industrial Commission orders and someone gets injured, the city would automatically be negligent," Geenen commented.

He also raised the point that should the city take possession of the ramp before the contractor's work is completed officially, it could impair any of the city's contractual rights if structural defects show up later.

Standard Construction Co., Minneapolis, is putting the finishing touches to the ramp now, and it is expected to be open within a few weeks.

Black Creek Boy Scalded By Grease

A seven-year-old rural Black Creek boy suffered severe burns to his right arm Friday afternoon when a skillet of frying bacon spilled on him.

Dennis Douglas, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lowell Douglas, who live on Hampel Road about nine miles north of Appleton, remained in Appleton Memorial Hospital this morning. He was taken there by Outagamie County police squad car about 1:45 p.m. Friday.

The boy's parents reportedly were gone although other older children were home when the accident occurred. The boy apparently pulled the skillet of frying bacon off the kitchen stove and the hot grease spilled onto his right arm from the elbow to the wrist and onto his knees.

One of the children ran outside and waved down a passing motorist. The man who was from Granden, was not familiar with the roads in the area and called the sheriff's department.

Shiocton Native Named to Police Post in Montana

SHIOCTON -- A Shiocton native, Don Kitchenmaster Jr., has started his six-month probationary period with the Lewis and Clark Police Dept., following his appointment by that city's mayor and police commission.

Kitchenmaster, who moved to Lewistown from Shiocton in 1956, also has passed his examination for the Montana Highway Patrol and has driven armored cars for several local banks.

Prior to police work, Kitchenmaster was self-employed in the building trades.

After leaving Shiocton, Kitchenmaster completed his military obligations and continued his education at Lewistown.

Mrs. Kitchenmaster is a school teacher.

Legislative Battle Ended

Final Reorganization Bill 'Good Compromise'—Kellett

MENASHA — William Kellett said Friday the final version of the Kellett plan for state government reorganization was "a good compromise."

"We knew some compromise had to be made, and this was a good one," he said.

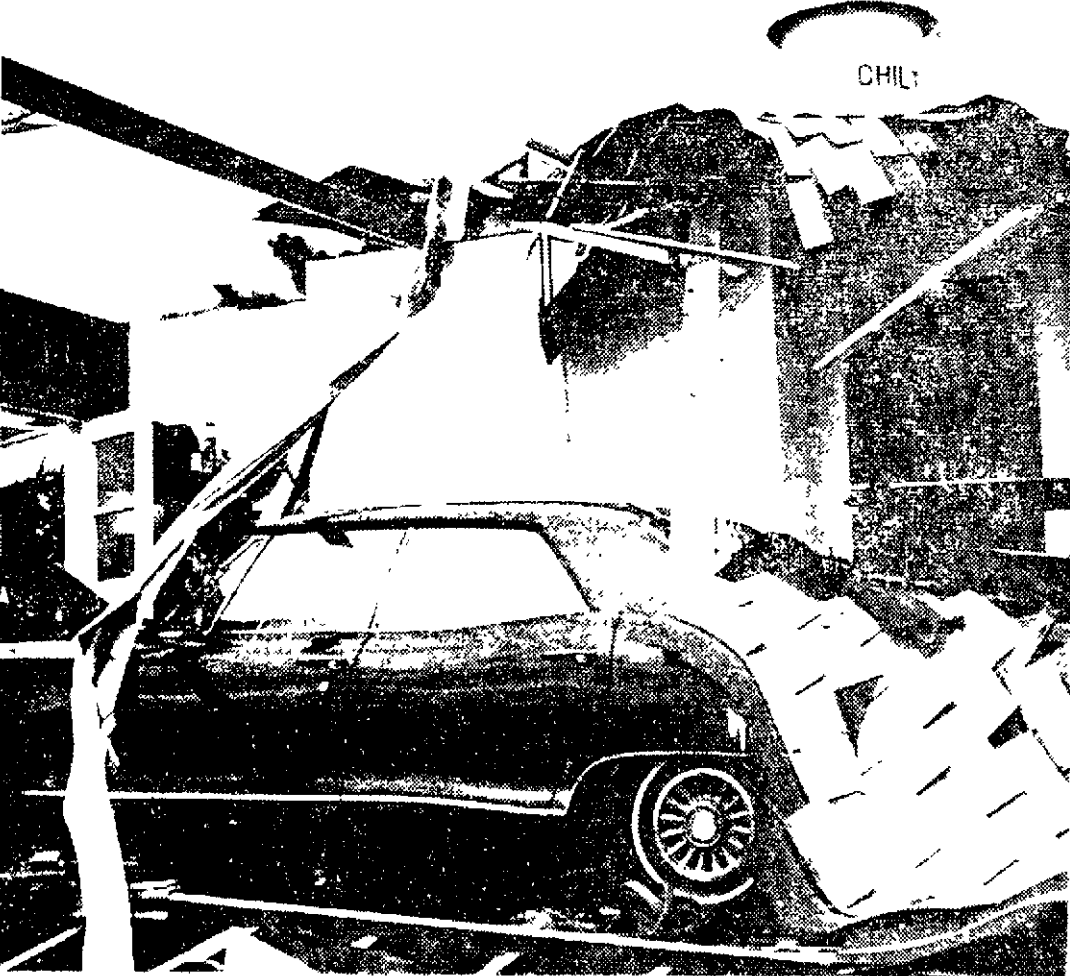

The state legislature ended the six month battle over reorganization Thursday when both houses accepted a conference committee recommendation on the make-up of the new "super-board" of natural resources. The composition of the resource board was the last snag to be cleared before passage of the bill.

Final action on the bill, which the governor has said he will sign into law, ends for Kellett what was practically a com-

Confined Almost 72 Hours

Homeless Family Out of Jail

Four children of a Little Chute family were given their freedom from the Outagamie County Jail Friday afternoon after almost 72 hours after they were confined with their mother and town Police Dept., following his appointment by that city's mayor and police commission.

The Outagamie County Welfare Department said that the four youths, ages 11, 14, 16, and 17, were placed in "temporary foster care" in three homes. Two of the children are staying in one home.

The 11 and 14-year-old girls were released from their juvenile detention quarters at 3 p.m., about an hour after the 16-year-old boy and his 17-year-old sister.

Marion Company Pays $492 for Truck Overload

WAUPACA — A fine and penalties totaling $492 were assessed against the Berna Lumber Co., Marion, Wednesday when a representative of the firm appeared in Municipal Justice Court and entered a plea of no contest to a truck overload charge.

According to the state patrolman who stopped the truck April 29 on State 54 west of New London, the truck was overloaded 6,250 pounds. Dennis Berna, 27, told, was driving the truck at the time it was stopped.

The fine for overload was $50 and costs and the penalties paid were 7 cents per pound for a total of $437.

Waupaca Judge Orders Exam for Man Guilty Of Morals Charges

WAUPACA — Joel R. Grossman, 22, 336 E. Main St., Omro, pleaded guilty to three moral charges Friday when he appeared before County Judge Wendel McHenry. Judge McHenry ordered that Grossman undergo a pre-sentence examination at Central State Hospital, Waupaca.

Grossman was arrested June 25 at the Village of Fremont after an incident involving a seven-year-old girl.

A plea of innocent was entered for Grossman by his attorney when he was arraigned in county court June 27, but the plea was changed Friday.

Grossman was taken to Waupaca by sheriff's department authorities later Friday.

Brillion Lions Slate Annual Chicken Fry

Barbecue Set for July 8 at Horn Park; Band Will Perform

BRILLION — The annual Lions Club chicken barbecue will begin at 4:30 p.m. July 8 at Horn Park.

Members of the city band, which is observing its 50th anniversary this year, will wear their new uniforms for the first time when they perform at the event.

Advance tickets can be purchased from any club member, according to Jerry Ruden, general chairman.

Committee chairmen are Bill Knoespel, set-up; Mel Koch, fryers; Julius Stehula, refreshments; Rudy Bessert, music and entertainment; Romy Kofarnus, cashier; Rudy Seljan, serving and food; and Don Endries, clean-up.

Proceeds from the event finance the Lions Club-sponsored Halloween party and Easter egg hunt for children, and the Brillion Youth Center. The club also conducts the annual Christmas home decoration contest, provides a scholarship to a high school graduate, maintains flower boxes on Main Street, and helps support the camp for the blind at Rosholt.

41 Bridge Widening Will Begin July 5

State Highway Commission Gives Order for Year-Long Project

MADISON — Work on the U.S. 41 bridge over Lake Butte des Morts will "begin in earnest" next week, according to a state highway commission spokesman.

The causeway construction, long embroiled in controversy stemming from lakeshore residents' complaints of silting from the original causeway bridge, will take at least a year to complete.

A representative of C.C. Linck Co., the Beaver Dam construction firm in charge of the preliminary fill project, said today equipment would be moved to the scene following the 4th of July weekend.

The company submitted a low bid of $689,299 for its portion of the project which will eventually eliminate the traffic bottleneck near Oshkosh.

Order Given

A state highway official said this morning he was "thankful" the bridge is finally getting underway. He said the Beaver Dam firm had been given an order this week to begin construction within 10 days.

"We sure would have liked to have the bridge ready for Packer season this fall," he said. But he added that barring unforeseen delays, four lanes should be open across the lake by the 1968 football season.

Seymour Slates First July Fourth Celebration After 20-Year Absence

Maj. Duane Miller Returning to Lend Patriotic Note to Occasion

SEYMOUR — A thrice-decorated Vietnam veteran is expected to add a serious and patriotic note to the Jaycees' Firemen Independence Day festivities Tuesday in the city's first Fourth of July celebration in 20 years.

Air Force Maj. Duane Miller, a Seymour native who was awarded the Silver Star and the Distinguished Flying Cross with an oak leaf cluster while serving overseas, will be the featured speaker in ceremonies at the fairgrounds grandstand.

In Vietnam, Miller piloted an amphibious rescue plane and succeeded in several daring rescues at sea of downed airmen, the most recent this past winter.

Miller is currently serving as liaison officer between the Air Force and the Civil Air Patrol at Cheyenne, Wyo. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Mack Miller, 412 Ivory St., and a graduate of Seymour High School.

Parade Scheduled

Miller will speak at 11 a.m. following a parade which will include several units from the Fox Cities area. Other speakers will be William Tubbs, commander of the local American Legion post; Les Jarchow, Veterans of Foreign Wars commander; and Seymour Mayor Ben Truymen.

The parade will begin at 9:30 a.m. More than 15 floats and a large number of other units are entered, according to Joe Trembl, publicity chairman.

Among the units is the Kaukauna Diplomats, a 29-piece baton twirling corps.

Following the speeches, Jaycees will serve a chicken barbecue from 11:30 a.m. through 1:30 p.m. at the Seymour lake.

The main afternoon attraction will be a horse-pulling contest sponsored by the Seymour firemen. The event is set for 1:30 p.m. at the fairgrounds with

He refused to recognize a motion by Ald. Orville Strutz (17th), a commission member, to vote on the proposed land exchange so the school board would have an alternate site to Jones, said they saw no reason consider for a new southside school.

Illegal Motion In addition to ruling Strutz's motion illegal and out of order, Jones also ruled that the meeting he (Jones) called was illegal and pressed for adjournment.

On two occasions a vote was taken on adjournment motions, and finally a third passed when it appeared the chairman would not recognize the Hoover Park motion.

Last week the board voted 4-3, with Mayor Buckley breaking a tie, not to make the Hoover site available.

Following that was the action of the city council in not approving the school board-recommended purchase of the Mielke property for the school site.

However, school officials indicated they could not make their position known on the Hoover location because the park had not been offered by the commission.

Mayor Switches With this in mind, Mayor Buckley asked Jones last Monday to call yesterday's meeting and in a prepared statement said:

"Initially, I had favored the Mielke property as the site for the new south side elementary school. However, the city council rejected the purchase of the Mielke site at its last meeting, in leaving the school board in the position of having no alternate site.

"Because of the action of the council and the proximity of Hoover Park to the Mielke property, I have decided to offer the Hoover Park site to the school board for their consideration."

Lower Body Reconvenes On July 11

MADISON — The state Assembly failed to take action Friday on the Rogers bill to change the site of the University of Wisconsin-Green Bay.

Action was stalled as the two houses of the Legislature sparred over whether to adjourn for four days, two weeks, three months, or to remain in session to face pending legislation.

The Assembly finally recessed until July 11.

There are indications, however, that Assembly Speaker Harold Froehlich, R-Appleton, may be unsure of his position in pushing the site-fight to a climax on the floor of the Assembly.

Froehlich had intended that the preliminary approval of the bill be reconsidered Friday, apparently sure of his strength in seeking final passage of the measure, which if passed still must run the gauntlet of the state Senate.

Froehlich had earlier said that he did not intend to allow the Assembly to recess without dealing with the bill authorized by Assemblyman William Rogers, D-Kaukauna.

Short of Quota

But by mid-afternoon he had agreed with Assemblyman Lawrence Johnson, R-Algoma, not to take up the measure later in the day while Johnson returned home to deal with family affairs.

Johnson, the Republican caucus leader, has been the leader of Green Bay forces fighting Froehlich's attempted site move.

Green Bay forces were thankful for the delay, as they could count only 47 sure votes to block passage at that point. Fifty votes are needed to win the battle.

But best guesses at the Appleton area strength come to about the same total, leaving about five swing votes in the now 99-member house.

Political fencing is expected to continue during any recessed period between sessions.

Firms Close Next Week In Waupaca

WAUPACA — Several Waupaca stores and three industries will be closed Monday to give their employees at least a three-day holiday.

The Waupaca Foundry and A.E. Moore Co. will be closed the entire week, which is traditional with both firms, to give their employees a week's vacation during the first week of July. Woody's Cheese Co. will be closed Monday, but will resume normal operations July 5.

Approximately one-half of the Main Street businesses and stores will be closed Monday. Owners of the two drug stores and hardware stores indicated they will be open July 3, but will close July 4.

Nuclear Crisis Is Now

The explosion of China's first hydrogen bomb last month once more has forced observers in other countries to revise their estimates about when China will become a true nuclear power able to match the United States and the Soviet Union in the capability of doing massive damage if not destroying the world. Each time it has tested a nuclear device, China has moved more rapidly than had been expected.

The hydrogen bomb detonated by the Chinese is reportedly at least 3 megatons, twice as powerful as the warhead of the basic United States intercontinental ballistic missile. It is estimated that China has stockpiled about fifty atomic bombs and is moving rapidly ahead with a delivery system. The new estimates suggest that by sometime next year China could reach much of Southeast Asia, and parts of India, Japan, Korea and of course Taiwan with nuclear weapons. By 1969 the area could include major military targets in Russia and the American establishments on Guam, Okinawa and the Philippines. By 1972 China will still be behind the United States and the Soviet Union — but it would hardly seem to matter since its ICBMs would probably have a range of 6,000 miles and could hit all of Russia and especially the northern and western part of the United States.

China has been able to push ahead in great part because it is a totalitarian nation where the government can determine where emphasis must be put at whatever cost to the people. Despite the conflict over the "cultural revolution" within China over the last year, the nuclear areas were not touched nor the pressure to build a hydrogen device slowed down. There is no way of telling whether Mao will continue in such control or how much the miseries of the Chinese people led to the internal conflict. But there is no sign at present that any move to overthrow Mao — if it even exists — has any chance of success.

The outlook is gloomy indeed. India, threatened by China, is bound to push ahead toward its own nuclear capability. Reports that China might intervene in the Middle East, bypass the Soviet Union and offer atomic weapons to the Arabs are bound to influence the Israelis in their nuclear plans. The French have also now been passed by the Chinese and probably will react by spending more time and money on developing a hydrogen bomb. And the pressure now is considerable in both the Soviet Union and the United States for the deployment of an antimissile system which will cost the United States at least forty billion dollars if it is to be effective.

When Premier Kosygin talked with President Johnson they both favored the treaty to halt the spread of nuclear weapons. But such a treaty is anachronistic since India, China, France and Israel show no interest in signing it.

It would seem that the time for unprecedented action is right now. The United States, with or without the cooperation of the Soviet Union, should press for a meeting with the Chinese leaders to try to halt this madness. It may be that possession of nuclear power means a certain vulnerability. But China's hunger, poverty, ambition and vastness may serve to overcome the restraint that the United States and Russia have developed due to the immensity of their power. And this is especially true if China remains in its state of fearful isolation.

It will not be easy to get the Chinese to a conference table. They have scorned even suggestions that they be allowed to join the United Nations. But the attempts should begin before it is too late.

The Paint Contractors Come Forth

More tangible support of the College Avenue beautification program has come from the Appleton Paint Contractors Association with their welcome offer to donate the services of 30 men to help with painting and staining of benches and other outdoor furniture included in the street-scaping-landscaping plans.

Needless to say city officials and professional planners and designers responsible for the beautification plan implementation were elated over the fine civic contribution made by the Paint Contractors Association who want to contribute about $5,000 in man hours to help provide the city's downtown with a new, sparkling personality.

The Association, along with other groups and individuals who have contributed money, materials or services are to be congratulated for their keen interest in molding a bigger and better Appleton through the encouragement of changes which will produce positive results.

The New Canal Treaties

American and Panamanian negotiators have reached agreement on three treaties governing the Panama Canal, the proposed sea level canal somewhere in Central America and the defense and neutrality of the canal. Full texts of the proposed treaties will not be released until the governments have approved them and they can be submitted to the legislatures for ratification. Already it appears that there may be trouble getting the proposals through the United States Senate.

In great part the new treaties were drawn to replace the one of 1903 that gave the United States legal sovereignty over the canal "in perpetuity." Latin American resentment of American wealth, power and sometimes its interference in Latin American affairs came to full boiling point over this control of the canal. There were riots in 1964 even involving flying the Panamanian flag alongside that of the United States. The matter was principally an emotional one and the scrapping of the 1903 treaty is seen as one means of calming down agitators in Central America.

Reportedly the negotiators would recognize Panama's sovereignty over the strip of land where the present canal is located and propose to permit Panama to collect a higher share of the canal tolls than is now done. In the proposed treaty concerning a future sea level canal, there is apparently no commitment that it be constructed in Panama. But any canal, new or present, will be open at all times to vessels of all nations. It is likely that the American forces in the area would be reduced.

Obviously there is some amount of bargaining power for the United States in the plans for the new sea level canal. If Panama wants to have it, Panama must demonstrate cooperation. Sovereignty is almost a meaningless term as far as Panama and a lot of countries are concerned since they depend so heavily upon the United States for economic assistance and military defense. But here the matter once again is primarily emotional.

The United States must not give up important defense positions. But it seems likely that in case of a serious conflict, the rapidity of today's travel would mean that occupation of such areas as a Central American canal would be relatively simple. What should be clear from this latest controversy and the expected debate in the Senate is that treaties created supposedly for all time are silly and unreasonable. Treaties in fact can only be guidelines for the immediate future.

BY LEWIS GULICK Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Twenty years ago this summer, foreign aid, as it is known today, was born.

On June 5, 1947, Gen. George Catlett Marshall, President Truman's secretary of state, laid down at a Harvard College commencement his dramatic plan for the economic rebuilding of war-ravaged Europe.

The plan was to bear his name. The first broad, multi-country U. S. foreign aid program, it was to become the predecessor of all subsequent U. S. overseas assistance programs.

"The truth of the matter," Marshall said at Harvard, "is that Europe's requirements for the next three or four years of foreign goods and other essential products — principally from America — are so much greater than her ability to pay, that she must have substantial additional help or face economic, social and political deterioration of a very grave character."

VICIOUS CIRCLE

"The remedy lies in breaking the vicious circle and restoring the confidence of the European people in the economic future of their own countries and of Europe as a whole."

The economies of the European nations at that time had been devastated by World War II. Hard cash reserves were being swallowed up by vital imports from the United States. U. S. strategists feared that if Europe's economies collapsed, the Communists would move in.

Early estimates were that the western European countries could recover economically in four years, with perhaps $25 billion in U. S. aid.

Congress authorized a start of the program, beginning April 1948, under the then-new Economic Cooperation Administration — predecessor of today's Agency for International Development. Paul Gray Hoffman, a former president of the Studebaker Corp., was picked to run it. He is now director of the United Nations Special Fund. The European governments established the Organization for European Economic Cooperation to chart the use of Marshall Plan funds for their recovery.

During the fiscal years 1949-1952, the United States poured $13.7 billion into western Europe's economic rehabilitation. Some of the countries regained their economic momentum faster than the 4-year period originally expected, and the total U. S. aid for their economic rebuilding fell well below original U. S. estimates.

$2.7 BILLION IN FOOD

U. S. commodities shipped to western Europe under the Marshall Plan included $2.7 billion in foodstuffs, $532 million in feeds and fertilizer, $1.6 billion in fuel, $1.4 billion in cotton, $2 billion in other raw materials and semi-finished products, and $1.9 billion in machinery and vehicles. The rest of the $13.7 billion covered miscellaneous items ranging from $53 million for technical services to $892 million for ocean freight.

During this 1949-1952 Marshall Plan period Belgium-Luxembourg received $367 million in economic assistance from the United States, Denmark $273 million, France $27 billion, West Germany $2.5 billion, Iceland $29 million, Ireland $147 million, Italy $1.5 billion, the Netherlands $982 million, Norway $255 million, Portugal $51 million, Spain $53 million, and the United Kingdom $39.2 billion.

Given to the West European countries on a regional, or multi-national basis, was another $407 million in U. S. economic help. Result: A Europe more vigorous and prosperous than it had ever been. Also, a pattern for world help of poor nations by the rich.

Froehlich Wants to Strengthen Committee System of Legislature

BY JOHN WYNGAARD

MADISON — The Legislature as an institution is notoriously cautious about innovations in its own household. That is why some of the rules of procedure and even the parliamentary language styles and rules are those that were chairman of a major committee, the head of an interim committee, or the caucus leaders of the parties, probably spend considerably more than half time. At least one of the prominent members of the current Legislature, admittedly more interested and zealous than most, figures that his office is full-time in fact, if not yet in public recognition or legal definition.

Under the Froehlich proposition, which he unveiled in a kind of inaugural speech last January when he was chosen to lead the Legislature's lower house, the standing committee system which is the heart of the Legislature's operations would be strengthened by authorizing committees to hold regular sessions, as well as public hearings, when the houses are in recess.

TOO MUCH TO DO

Thus would bills and resolutions have a fair chance for the serious evaluation that they frequently do not get under the traditional method of operations, as every close observer of the proceedings knows. There are simply too many complex and controversial matters presented to maintain the pretense that every bill gets a vote — as the boast used to be among earlier generations of Wisconsin legislative politicians.

Froehlich notes also that under such an arrangement legislators would have the opportunity to pursue their special interests and to become more knowledgeable and responsible as specialists in charge of particular aspects of state government operations and policy.

The house speaker would classify committees in categories and rewrite the rules to identify the rights and the rank of the minority members. He says he wants the powers of the committee chairman enlarged, as well as those of the Speaker, which will require some elaboration before it is generally accepted. He wants additional staffing for major committees also. This will be endorsed by informed critics of the system if there is an assurance that what is sought is quality assistance rather than job patronage.

The enlargement of legislators' individual work responsibilities as envisioned is based on the assumption that their salary arrangements will be adjusted to compensate. The professional staffer at the Legislature will doubtless regard that as the only motivation. Yet any sideline observer truly concerned about quality of performance in the key legislative branch and aware of the uncomplaining acceptance of higher salaries and privileges in all of the other public services, will be sympathetic.

Boys Should Also Wear Swim Caps

Editor, Post-Crescent

I have been going swimming at least three days a week at Erb Park Pool. The other day I had a strand of hair out of my bathing cap and the lifeguard told me to tuck it in. My hair is about shoulder length. Some of the boys that go there have longer hair than some girls. They usually have grease on their hair, too. I don't see why those long haired greasy guys don't have to wear bathing caps, too!

It Was in '66, Not '65 Mayor Promised Hearing

Editor, Post-Crescent

This is a reply to the mother of the mayor of the city of Appleton. Your son is very fortunate to have a mother who believes in him and everything he says. This takes me back to America before we were a nation and a little boy who's name was also George. One day he chopped down his parents' cherry tree. When asked who did it, he said, "I did."

This boy turned out to be our first President and one of the great men in our history.

Now that we have to get technical about names and dates. When I stated in my article two years ago I was considering this year as 1967 and last year as 1966 and technically I should have said about 1 1/2 years ago. True, in 1965 I did not know your son and I don't believe he knew me.

My first contact with your son was in the spring of 1966. This was a phone call to his office. At that time I congratulated him on his victory over former Mayor Mitchell and I talked to him about the proposed "Winnebago Pipe Line."

At that time he seemed to be against the project. Now this should take care of part of your letter.

Now when you asked your son on the phone, "Do you know a Virgil A. Achterberg from Neenah?" and he said "Nope, never heard of him," all I can say is "Really? George, I'm surprised." And then you said "Are you sure you never knew him?" and when your son said "Absolutely. I'd remember an odd name like that." All I can say is, is that you? You can fool some of the mothers some of the time, but not all of the mothers all of the time. Maybe your son secretly could remember my "odd" name. I can well understand why the mayor was always out of town or at a meeting when I called his office several more times. And I'm sure the people of Appleton and The Post-Crescent are very happy to know your son reads the newspaper every evening. It is said a well-informed mayor should be a good one. And the possibility that my letter was printed as a humorous item I also know. Mr. John Torinus and his son, editor of the Twin Cities News-Record. And I also watch and listen to Mr. Torinus on Commentary on TV.

I do not believe Mr. Torinus published my article "Demands Public Hearing On Appleton Water Line" June 16 because it was humorous. He is running a newspaper and not a comic book publishing business. Mr. Torinus is interested in all of the people of Wisconsin. This is one of the reasons The Post-Crescent is where it is today and will be a better newspaper tomorrow.

Your son should take a little time and go to the newspaper library and read his campaign promises from 1965 to the time he was elected to office. And when 5-6 million dollars of taxpayers money is to be spent on the Winnebago pipeline.

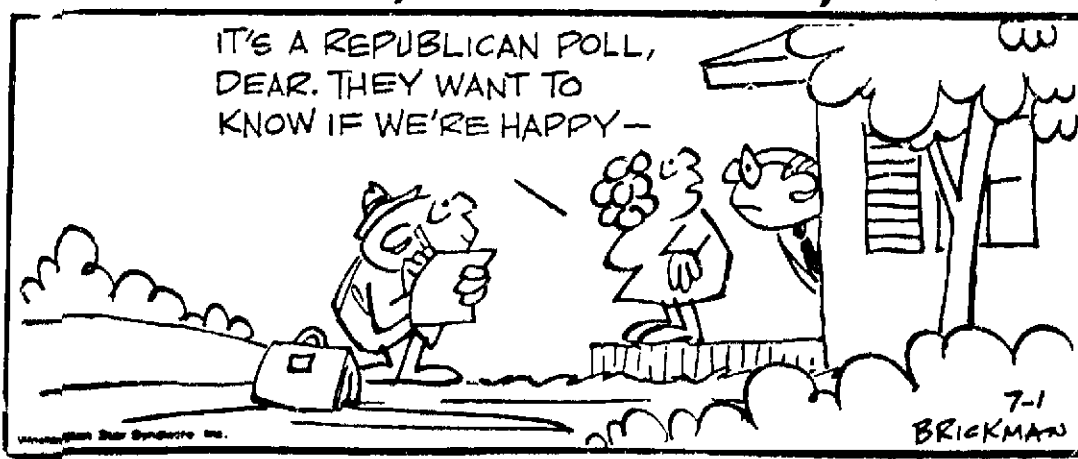

I believe it is only fair the voters in his city and all sportsmen and taxpayers in Wisconsin should be given an answer, "Why no public hearing on this project?" I hope it will not be necessary for the taxpayers and concerned sportsmen to petition the governor and the state of Wisconsin for a legislative interim committee hearing on this pipeline. I hope your son this time will answer me and all the voters of Appleton and The Post-Crescent.

Again, your son should be proud to have a mother who believes in him, and I would like to thank you for doing something that your son should have done for himself, and his voters and the taxpayers who put him in office. And in your effort in trying to straighten out his record I wish you the best of luck!

Classic Movie Shorts Have Long Tradition

Silent Era Fostered Talents of Great Comedians, Directors; Lesson to be Learned

By BOB THOMAS AP Movie-Television Writer LOS ANGELES (AP) — The power and the glory of the short film has been demonstrated during the past two weekends at the Los Angeles County Museum. And it is to be hoped Hollywood learned a lesson.

It's a lesson Hollywood once taught the world: that movies of less than feature-length can be exploratory and highly entertaining.

The production of shorts has a long tradition. The great comedies of the silent era were one- and two-reelers that fostered the talents of Charlie Chaplin, Harold Lloyd, Buster Keaton, Harry Langdon and many others. Even in the sound era, length which have won awards in film festivals around the world. They come from Poland, England, Japan, France Italy, Belgium, Canada, and even the U. S. A.

The names of some of the creators are significant: Richard Lester, Jean-Luc Godard, Francois Truffaut, Clive Donner, Roman Polanski.

These are directors who first tried the brief film, then went on to attempt some of the major advances in recent feature films — Truffaut's "The 400 Blows," Lester's "A Hard Day's Night," etc.

Audiences Delighted A capacity audience greeted the first of the programs with enthusiasm, and there were ordinary citizens along with the expectable quota of hippies.

All seemed most amused by the classic "Running, Jumping, and Standing Still Film" of Lester. Peter Sellers and his fellow members of Britain's "Goon Show" romp through a procession of outrageous gags.

Another favorite was "Enter Hamlet" by the American cartoonist Mogubgub. As the "To Be or Not to Be" soliloquy is intoned by Maurice Evans, each word is illustrated by a cartoon of comic significance. The images come with almost subliminal rapidity and with delicious humor.

Elusive Fables Truffaut's contribution is a not wholly successful fable of how a quintet of sub-puberty French boys bedevil a village beauty in her romance with a gym teacher. Polanski provides a curious allegory called "The Fat and the Lean," in which a frenetic young servant tries to please a fat, decadent master. There may be political significance here, but it is elusive.

Several of the films use animation and stop-action in ways that commercial film makers would not dare. And therein lies much of the value of these short films.

With little investment risked, the shorts makers can explore new avenues of cinematic expression. Many of their discoveries have already found their way into feature movies.

Dean Martin Receives Big Birthday Gift

NBC Renews Contract At $34 Million, Show Continues for 3 Years

By BOB THOMAS AP Movie-Television Writer HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Dean Martin turned 50 this month, and NBC handed him a gift to add to the celebration: a television contract amounting to $34 million.

That is the estimated outlay for the Dean Martin Show during the next three years. The network eschewed the usual custom of renewing contracts only from year to year. After Dean's splendid showing in the ratings this season, NBC apparently felt he was good for three more.

How much of the $34 million will be take-home pay for Martin is a matter for his lawyers and accountants. But the new contract will push him beyond his current annual income of $5 million, a total which already makes him the highest-paid entertainer in America. And probably the world, since the Beatles have to split their millions four ways.

Dinner With Children Martin observed his 50th birthday by going out to dinner with several of his children. His wife, Jeanne, had departed for Europe with a couple of the younger children; Dean will join her for a week as soon as he finishes "The Ambushers."

When the wine was offered for his approval in the high-priced restaurant where he was celebrating, Martin sprayed out the mouthful.

"You call this wine?" he demanded of the astonished maitre d'.

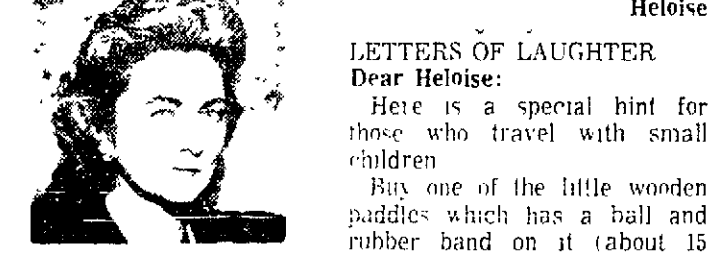

Many a male has wished he could pull such a prank: Dean Martin can get away with it. He has become America's favorite

HINTS FROM Heloise

Dear Heloise: Well in advance of a picnic, I prepare about one-half of the fruit drink or iced tea which we are going to take along and freeze it in plastic pint containers.

At serving time, I empty the pints into a large covered plastic serving pail and pour tap water into the pail. The frozen portions which have been made twice as strong cool the water without becoming too diluted. In the meantime, the frozen pints of tea have been used to cool and keep our picnic food fresh.

I call this double duty! The tumblers are already cool and each has a nice chunk of ice because they will have melted by the time you get there.

Dear Heloise: I never apply varnish with a brush anymore. I always got too scamp and seemingly can do no wrong.

When he came onstage at this year's Academy Awards, he was carrying a cigarette. "You got a letter for me?" he asked of the Price, Waterhouse man, instead of "May I have the envelope, please?"

Such breaches of dignity might have proved scandalous if committed by another star. No body thought a thing about it with Dean.

His capacity for drink is a source of delight to his audiences, not outrage. His role as a boozing charmer is well established both on and off the screen, though there is overwhelming evidence that he does not drink as much as people think.

Revolution Recounted In '1776'

BY TV SCOUT

10:30-11:30 (Channel 11) — Summer Focus is one of ABC's finest historical programs from The Saga of Western Man series, simply titled "1776," and dealing with the revolutionary period and the events leading up to it. There is a brief look at the palaces and kings of France and England, then off to the New World, where photography re-creates the Boston Tea Party in 1773; Paul Revere's 1775 ride (with producer John Secondari as Revere); the battle at Concord Bridge; and Jefferson's drafting of the Declaration of Independence, including some interesting bits about the condemnation of slavery he had in his original draft. (C)

6:30-7:30 (Channels 2-7) — Away We Go goes way, way far away tonight with the introduction of a group calling themselves Spanky and Our Gang. Don't look for any resemblance, whatsoever, between the original and this folk-rock group, especially when they sing "Gave to Me." (C)

7:30-8 (Channels 4-5) — "It Takes One to Know One" brings back Dick Gaubier as Hymie the Robot on Get Smart. Chief villain of the evening is Gayle Hunnicutt, a KAOS beauty, and the thought here is that the robot will be immune to her evil charm and wit. But the girl is more than she appears to be. (C-R)

7:30-8:30 (Channels 2-7-12) — Mission: Impossible trudges along with a fairly suspenseful episode. Once more viewers are presented with an African dictator (John Van Dreelen) who can't keep his hands off what isn't his. He has confiscated an enormous diamond, one which belongs to some angry tribesmen. (C-R)

8-10 (Channels 4-5) — "Lonely are the Brave" on Saturday Night at the Movies is a tough little drama Kirk Douglas, with jaw thrust neatly forward, plays a modern cowboy who ain't about to cope with the tomfoolery of the 20th century. The jet age scares him to death. (R)

9-10 (Channels 2-7-12) — Gunsmoke has one of its most interesting episodes of the past season. This is due mainly to the appearance of Fritz Weaver who shows up as a quick-triggered Arizona marshal eager to find an outlaw gang who burned his town and stole his woman. (C-R)

X15 Rocket Plane Engine Fails At 107,000 Feet

MUDD LAKE, Nev. (AP) — The engine of the X15 rocket plane failed Thursday at an altitude of 107,000 feet but its pilot maneuvered the craft to a safe landing after an eight-minute glide.

There was no immediate explanation for the failure, which also knocked out the plane's communications.

Between the time pilot Maj. William J. Knight cried "shut-down" and the plane landed near here, ground crews did not know its fate.

The X15 glided upward to 160,000 feet before starting its long, tense plunge back to hard desert land. Knight jettisoned his remaining rocket fuel and used only a pressure altimeter and gravity meter as working instruments.

He was unhurt until he cut his head climbing from the cockpit, becomes dry and degenerated, pinch the leaf off immediately, as it won't grow healthy again and it is only sucking the needed life from the rest of the plant.

This is especially true on philodendron and ivies. Most times (so I am told by a top authority) if the leaf is pinched close to the stem... another leaf will come out! Mine does.

Woman Breaks Habit Of Amphetamine Use

BY JOSEPH MOLNER, M. D.

Dear Dr. Molner: I was interested in J.T.'s question about the cure for a person who had taken amphetamines for 10 years.

I had been taking two 10-mg. tablets a day for 18 years. I didn't like the slavery and one day last summer decided to end it.

My solution may sound silly, but it worked: I quit the amphetamines and cigarettes the same day. I was gorgeously miserable, but couldn't put it all on drug deprivation.

Eventually I went back to smoking on a limited basis and felt like someone had relieved my sentence!

I have been delighted to discover that I can manage both my weight and my disposition without pink pills.

I'm still disappointed at being chained to tobacco, but at age 40 have learned to be grateful for limited victories.

So I say this to J.T.: Dr. Molner is right. Stop taking the pills. It's worth it — eventually! — Mrs. E.J.

Dear Dr. Molner: I would like to know what causes ichthyosis and how it can be cured.

So would I. This is a skin condition. Because of overgrowth of the hard or horny portion of the skin and decreased production of perspiration and skin oils, the skin becomes rough and scaly, and is sometimes called "fish skin disease."

Some hereditary factor seems to be the chief element in causing it.

It actually is a rather common condition in mild form, but difficult to treat in severe cases.

Rather than looking for a cure, it is more practicable just to do what can be done to soften the skin and keep it as flexible as you can.

Such skin is inclined to be sensitive even though it may not always look that way. Avoid too much use of detergents or solvents, including turpentine, so as not to remove oils from the skin. Sometimes too many baths will be irritating, especially in winter when air in the house is dry.

Sometimes hands and feet are helped by soaking for 10 minutes in hot water, then applying lanolin or other form of grease or fat, and wearing light gloves or socks to bed. Mild grease or something similar may be applied elsewhere on the body to soften the skin.

Dear Dr. Molner: Is skim milk as good for you as homogenized milk? Which should a 13-year-old girl drink? How many calories should a girl almost 14 have? — Mrs. R.T.

The difference between skim milk and regular or homogenized is merely that the skim milk has had much of the fat removed.

Generally, growing youngsters need the calories which the fat represents. The exception is the child who is overweight, and needs the minerals and protein in the milk but will be better off drinking skim milk, which will help with the weight problem.

It is pointless to try to say how many calories a growing girl needs. We need to know more about her than her age.

Dear Dr. Molner: After reading a magazine article on rectal examination with proctoscope I had it done but suffered excruciating pain. Are these examinations always painful. The article didn't indicate that it was so painful. Was the doctor to blame? — R.L.

If you are nervous and muscles are tense, it can be uncomfortable. A relaxed patient usually has little if any trouble. I doubt if the doctor was to blame, but it should not be done too abruptly.

Lay Education Group Will Need More Time

NEENAH — Further exploration into how to involve the total and moral attitudes of the community in educational programs was the focal point this assigned to a sociological survey when the Family Living committee met for the second time to determine whether or not to exist all time at Conant Junior School.

Seven members of the 22-man lay committee appointed by the board of education of the Neenah Joint School District were present and went away with volumes of reports from subcommittees which they were asked to include in their summary reading.

It is questionable whether a sound recommendation from the committee will be made before school opens this fall as a three-hour discussion at the group's second meeting was still at an impasse, attempting to settle such matters as "the best way to handle other injuries which were not effective program for schools, immediately determined. He parents and the clergy in a heterogeneous population like Neenah's."

Delegated to find out if there is proper education of school children and adults of the community in matters of sex, the use of alcohol and other drugs, and to survey the needs for increasing education in all areas, the committee members present found themselves in serious need of more facts.

Police said David H. Panzenhagen, 25, 136 N. Badger Ave., suffered leg and face cuts and other injuries which were not immediately determined. He was taken to the hospital by squad car.

Police said that Panzenhagen was eastbound on W. Franklin when his car was struck in the left side by a southbound car driven by Alfred O. Gresl, 32, 725 W. Franklin St.

Pintar Will Command Appleton Division of Naval Reserve Forces

Lt. Comdr. James R. Pintar, 1754 Birchwood Ave., has been appointed commanding officer of Appleton Naval Reserve Division 9-9.

He succeeds Lt. Comdr. D. J. Hewitt, Neenah, who was named officer in charge of the Naval Reserve training facility.

A change of command ceremony is scheduled July 10 at a regular meeting of the unit in the Armed Forces Reserve Center, 1824 Ballard Road.

Lt. Comdr. Pintar, 35, has been affiliated with the Naval Reserve 18 years. He served as operations officer of the Navy's harbor defense command, Lew- is, Del., following graduation from Michigan Technological University in 1954.

Before assignment to the Appleton unit in 1962, he was affiliated with Naval Reserve Surface Divisions in Hancock, Mich., and Milwaukee.

Butte des Morts Musicians Leave for Madison Clinics

NEENAH — Four musicians from the Butte des Morts Junior High School Band will leave Sunday for the University of Wisconsin, Madison, where they will spend one week in concentrated study on their band scholarships.

Gwen Kelley, Ellen Akstulewicz, Nancy Orbison and Lisa Riehl were given the week's tour, during which they will have sectional instruction on their instruments and play with bands made up of more than 1,000 school musicians. They were chosen by the Menasha High School Music Parents.

Ellen is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Julian Akstulewicz, 1086 Manitowoc Road, an eighth grader, and plays flute in the band and is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Elwyn Kelley, 1447 Racine St.

Clarinetist Lisa Riehl is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Willard Riehl, Jr., 137 Lakeshore Dr.

French horn player Nancy is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. H. Orbison, 120 Riverview Court.

Steven Bergner, clarinetist, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. H. Orbison, 120 Riverview Court.

Monday Kiddie Parade Is Special Event at Village Play Areas

KIMBERLY — A "kiddie parade" at all supervised play areas at 6:30 p.m. Monday will replace the regular Thursday night special event at parks, according to Gilbert Frank, recreation director.

Prizes will be awarded best trimmed tricycle, wagon, and doll buggy and a special award will be made for the most patriotic costumes. A scavenger hunt will be held at 7 p.m. Thursday to replace the special event.

Handicraft project for the week will be making of potholders.

Rubbish Collection Doubled Wednesday

KAUKAUNA — City crews, normally held Tuesday will be held on Wednesday due to the holidays.

Residents are to have items at the curb early Wednesday as crews will be attempting to cover twice the normal collection area in one day.

Vandalism, Young Gang Spark N-M Curfew Talk

NEENAH-MENASHA — A uniform curfew sending Twin City young people home at a reasonable hour is in the talking stage as a result of vandalism in both cities and a recent plague of juvenile gang activities in a Neenah neighborhood.

Residents of the neighborhood, in the Fourth Ward area just south of Little Butte des Morts, have reacted with a petition that contains 300 or more names of citizens seeking the curfew.

Warren Romberg, 312 Caroline St., one of the chief backers of the petition, said it is hoped 500 signatures can be obtained. Fourth Ward Ald. Robert Frank, meanwhile, said he hopes to have an ordinance drafted by the time the common council's public protection committee meets in about two weeks.

And, Mayors Carl Loehning of Neenah and Kenneth Holmes of Menasha have conferred on the subject and agreed that a uniform curfew for both cities is required if either city is to be successful in enforcing it.

The Menasha public safety committee agreed about a week ago to meet with the Neenah council group as soon as enough groundwork has been laid to support discussions.

In Menasha, persistent vandalism in city parks and on private property is the main force making officials consider setting a curfew.

The Neenah problem is similar, but was brought to a head recently by a gang of vandals as young as 13 years old who struck at private homes as late as 3 a.m., coordinating their activities guerrilla-style with toy walkie-talkies.

Romberg and Ald. Frank were among property owners who found themselves sitting awake nights to defend their homes against the gang, which hurled paint jars, cut wires and brake lines on one resident's house trailer and performed other damage.

Romberg called the gang a "little Gestapo." Frank said the neighbors' self-defense measures had them acting "like

Runaway From Michigan Held

MENASHA — Police notified Grand Rapids, Mich., authorities Friday that a runaway and Racine Streets at 1:12 p.m. Grand Rapids boy, 16, had turned up at the Neenah-Menasha Apostolate seeking help.

The youth, police in his home town reported, had left home last Sunday after arguing with his parents and assaulting them.

He told authorities here he had been hitch-hiking to St. Louis, Mo., when someone told him there were jobs for youths in northern Wisconsin and he decided to stop in the Twin Cities.

He later went to the Apostolate office, 328 Nicolet Blvd., seeking help.

His parents were notified and were to pick him up.

Littering Results in Suspended License For Neenah Driver

A 16-year-old Neenah youth who picked the wrong place to dispose of an empty malted milk container had his driver's license suspended for 30 days and paid $4 court costs after he pleaded guilty of littering.

Frank Stanelle, 826 Helen St., was waived from juvenile court into Outagamie County Court Branch 2.

Police said the youth dropped an empty container from a car he made by street and while the auto was near an sanitation department crews Tuesday. The Tuesday runs will be made Wednesday for the only change in the week's schedule.

Keys to Odors

Pumps En Route To Sewage Plant

NEENAH - MENASHA—Two pumps vital to stemming odors at the Neenah-Menasha sewage treatment plant were on a sewerage commission truck to pieces of major equipment to be installed in the $1.2 million expansion program begun two years ago.

The plant is currently undergoing shakedown tests.

For lack of the two pumps, sewage at the plant has been recirculated with the open-air treatment basins, resulting in a buildup of waste solids which plant officials blamed for strong odors.

Brillion Lions Slate Annual Chicken Fry

Barbecue Set for July 8 at Horn Park;
Band Will Perform

BRILLION — The annual Lions Club chicken barbecue will begin at 4:30 p.m. July 8 at Horn Park.

Members of the city band, which is observing its 50th anniversary this year, will wear their new uniforms for the first time when they perform at the event.

Advance tickets can be purchased from any club member, according to Jerry Ruden, general chairman.

Committee chairmen are Bill Knoespel, set-up; Mel Koch, fryers; Julius Stehula, refreshments; Rudy Bessert, music and entertainment; Romy Kofarnus, cashier; Rudy Seljan, serving and food, and Don Endries, clean-up.

Proceeds from the event finance the Lions Club-sponsored Halloween party and Easter egg hunt for children, and the Brillion Youth Center. The club also conducts the annual Christmas home decoration contest, provides a scholarship to a high school graduate, maintains flower boxes on Main Street, and helps support the camp for the blind at Rosholt.

Trials Set for 3 Appleton Motorists

Three Appleton motorists Friday pleaded innocent to charges of driving after their licenses were revoked or suspended.

Eugene N. Zastrow, 22, 724 1/2 W. College Ave., had trial set for Sept. 7 and posted $150 bond. He was arrested at Memorial Drive and College Avenue early the morning of June 18 by Appleton police.

James Knecheck, 23, 1235 1/2 W. College Ave., pleaded innocent of driving after suspension and an arterial violation. Appleton police alleged the offenses occurred about 1:45 a.m. June 9 at College Avenue and Memorial Drive.

Outagamie County Judge Gustave J. Keller set bonds totaling $185 and ordered trial for Dec. 14 on both counts.

Trial for Jack C. Mayer, 17, 711 E. Dennison St., was set for Sept. 25 and the youth was released to the custody of his father.

Appleton police said the youth was arrested at 5:10 p.m. June 22 at S. Onida and E. McKinley Streets.

Youth, 19, Fined $100, Costs on Separate Charges

Disorderly conduct and speeding charges brought early the same morning by Appleton police resulted in fines totaling $100 plus costs Friday afternoon for Michael R. Roth, 19, 954 Seventh St., Menasha.

Police arrested Roth for speeding 49 miles per hour in a 25 m.p.h. zone in the 400 block of E. Wisconsin Avenue about 1:30 a.m. Tuesday.

A few hours later police arrested the Menasha youth in connection with a window peeping complaint from a resident living in the 1600 block of N. Outagamie Street.

Roth, who pleaded guilty, was fined $25 and costs or 12 days in jail in the traffic charge, and $75 and costs or another 36 days in the disorderly count. He was sometime Thursday when no in Outagamie County Court one was home.

Woman Suffers Cuts, Transported to Hospital

Assembly Postpones Action On UW-Green Bay Site Bill

Vote Expected on Rogers Proposal
When Lower House Meets July 11

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau

MADISON — The state Assembly failed to take action Friday on the Rogers bill to change the site of the University of Wisconsin-Green Bay.

Action was stalled as the two houses of the Legislature sparred over whether to adjourn for four days, two weeks, three months, or to remain in session to face pending legislation.

The Assembly finally recessed until July 11.

There are indications, however, that Assembly Speaker Harold Froehlich, R-Appleton, may be unsure of his position in pushing the site-fight to a climax on the floor of the Assembly.

Froehlich had intended that the preliminary approval of the bill be reconsidered Friday, apparently sure of his strength in seeking final passage of the measure, which if passed still must run the gauntlet of the state Senate.

Froehlich had earlier said that he did not intend to allow the Assembly to recess without dealing with the bill authored by Assemblyman William Rogers, D-Kaukauna.

But by mid-afternoon he had agreed with Assemblyman Lawrence Johnson, R-Algoma, not to take up the measure later in the day while Johnson returned home to deal with family affairs.

Johnson, the Republican caucus leader, has been the leader of Green Bay forces fighting Froehlich's attempted site move.

Green Bay forces were thankful for the delay, as they could count only 47 sure votes to block passage at that point. Fifty votes are needed to win the battle.

But best guesses at the Appleton area strength come to about the same total, leaving about five swing votes in the now 99-member house.

Political fencing is expected to continue during any recessed period between sessions.

Black Creek Boy Scalded By Grease

A seven-year-old rural Black Creek boy suffered severe burns to his right arm Friday afternoon when a skillet of frying bacon spilled on him.

Dennis Douglas, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lowell Douglas, who live on Hampel Road about nine miles north of Appleton, re-named in Appleton Memorial Hospital this morning. He was taken there by Outagamie County police squad car about 1:45 p.m. Friday.

The boy's parents reportedly were gone, although other older children were home, when the accident occurred. The boy apparently pulled the skillet of frying bacon off the kitchen stove and the hot grease spilled onto his right arm, from the elbow to the wrist, and onto his knees.

One of the children ran outside and waved down a passing motorist. The man, who was from Crandon, was not familiar with the roads in the area, and called the sheriff's department.

Man Taken Into Custody In Green Bay

Fails to Appear
In Outagamie Court
On License Violation

Donald E. Zack, 38, Green Bay, who was taken into custody in Green Bay Thursday on a bench warrant issued after he failed to appear for an Outagamie County Court trial, maintained his innocence Friday afternoon.

County Judge Gustave J. Keller, on a motion by Zack's attorney, set a new date of Dec. 27 for trial on charges of driving after license revocation and improper use of evidence of registration.

Zack had pleaded innocent to the county charges and was to have appeared for trial Wednesday. When he did not, Judge Keller issued a bench warrant.

Zack's attorney told the court Friday his client was under the mistaken impression he could forfeit his $200 surety bond instead of appear for trial.

The attorney said the man had just gotten a new job, and even though maintaining his innocence, did not want to jeopardize the job by traveling to Appleton for trial Wednesday.

Judge Keller ruled that Zack first would have to pay the $11.50 in 20 years.

Cost of Outagamie County officials traveling to Green Bay to get him.

Park Chairman Blocks Vote On School Site Land Trade

Arthur Jones Refuses Motion
To Exchange Hoover Recreation
Area for Nearby Roeland Land

The president of the Appleton Park-Recreation Commission with its five acres of wooded area could be developed into a park that is vastly superior to the present Hoover Park.

"Not Involved"

Wendell Smith and William Heerman, citizen members of the commission along with Jones, said they saw no reason for the group to become involved in a school site matter, contending it was a problem for the city council to resolve.

Smith and Heerman, serving their first term on the commission, are attorneys.

Man Taken Into Custody In Green Bay

Fails to Appear
In Outagamie Court
On License Violation

Donald E. Zack, 38, Green Bay, who was taken into custody in Green Bay Thursday on a bench warrant issued after he failed to appear for an Outagamie County Court trial, maintained his innocence Friday afternoon.

County Judge Gustave J. Keller, on a motion by Zack's attorney, set a new date of Dec. 27 for trial on charges of driving after license revocation and improper use of evidence of registration.

Zack had pleaded innocent to the county charges and was to have appeared for trial Wednesday. When he did not, Judge Keller issued a bench warrant.

Zack's attorney told the court Friday his client was under the mistaken impression he could forfeit his $200 surety bond instead of appear for trial.

The attorney said the man had just gotten a new job, and even though maintaining his innocence, did not want to jeopardize the job by traveling to Appleton for trial Wednesday.

Judge Keller ruled that Zack first would have to pay the $11.50 in 20 years.

Cost of Outagamie County officials traveling to Green Bay to get him.

"Because of the action of the council and the proximity of Hoover Park to the Mielke property, I now feel that it is incumbent upon the council to offer Hoover Park as a school site in order to avoid further delay in starting construction of the new school."

In exchange for the Hoover Park site, the council could offer 22 acres of the recently-purchased Roeland property to the parks and recreation commission. I sincerely believe that this former Roeland property

Adrienne Kulieck, Miss Appleton, with the help of Mayor George Buckley, sheared the ribbon to officially open the 33rd annual Jaycees Civic Celebration at Pierce Park Friday afternoon. The event will run through July 4, with reduced prices on rides in effect for "Kiddies Day" today. Sunday's festivities will include a one and one-half hour fireworks display starting about 9 p.m.

Seymour Slates First July Fourth Celebration After 20-Year Absence

Maj. Duane Miller Returning to Lend Patriotic Note to Occasion

SEYMOUR — A thrice-dec-

ated Vietnam veteran is expected to add a serious and patriotic note to the Jaycees' Independence Day festivities Tuesday in the city's Fourth of July celebration

Air Force Maj. Duane Miller, a Seymour native who was awarded the Silver Star and the Distinguished Flying Cross with an oak leaf cluster while serving overseas, will be the featured speaker in ceremonies at the fairgrounds grandstand.

In Vietnam, Miller piloted an amphibious rescue plane and succeeded in several daring rescues at sea of downed airmen, the most recent this past winter.

Miller is currently serving as liaison officer between the Air Force and the Civil Air Patrol at Cheyenne, Wyo. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Mack Miller, 412 Ivory St., and a graduate of Seymour High School.

Miller will speak at 11 a.m. following a parade which will include several units from the Fox Cities area. Other speakers will be William Tubbs, commander of the local American Legion post; Les Jarchow, Veterans of Foreign Wars commander, and Seymour Mayor Ben Truymen.

The parade will begin at 9:30 a.m. More than 15 floats and a declared a quarterly dividend of 20 cents per share on common stock payable August 1.
